Revised Edition

Two new chapters have been added: "The Religion of the Celts and Teutons" and "The Unfolding of the Idea of God in the Religions of the World."

THE RELIGIONS OF THE WORLD

By GEORGE A. BARTON
Professor of Biblical Literature and Semitic Languages in Bryn Mawr College

Professor Barton's book fills a long-felt need in the field of comparative religion for a collection of facts which are suitable for the general reader. The book deals with the origin, history, and principal teachings of all the great religions. The author points out those characteristics of Christianity which make it destined to be the universal religion, and the result of the study should be a greater respect for all religions with a supreme allegiance to Christianity.

The Great Questions now, more than ever are moral questions. The future of the state, nationalism and internationalism, family, class divisions, the just management of business and industry, compel thoughtful persons to look for principles. To study the principles involved in all lines of action is the aim of

The Spiritual Pilgrimage of Jesus

The Bruce Lectures, 1917

James Alexander Robertson, M.A.

Dr. James Moffatt, in his foreword to the book says: "Mr. Robertson brings more than critical training to his difficult task. He has the fine gifts of moral insight and spiritual penetration. What he has produced seems to me to be a singularly attractive piece of work; the effect is to enable us to see the life of Jesus, not as the reflection of presuppositions which we bring to it, but as the inspiration of our personal experience in the same order of faith, and as the ultimate justification of our Christian attitude toward God and the world."

THE EVOLUTION OF EARLY CHRISTIANITY

By SHIRLEY JACKSON CASE, Professor of Early Church History and New Testament Interpretation in the University of Chicago

The beginnings of the Christian movement are here studied from a wholly new point of view. By examining the actual religious situation in which the Christians of the first century lived, the author is able to shed fresh light on many parts of the New Testament.

"It is a thoroughly scholarly and satisfactory study of an important period of growth and transition concerning which there has been but little heretofore available for the general reader."

—The Congregationalist.

A Remarkable Book by a Remarkable Man

THE CARPENTER AND HIS KINGDOM

By ALEXANDER IRVINE

The author in his amazing career has been newsboy, coalminer, soldier, minister, lecturer, psychologist, teacher, journalist, and publicist.

He has written a life of Christ which aims so to present His teachings that they will be accepted as the controlling principle in the life of the individual, of business, and of society.

The book is inspiring. It is reverent. It arrests the attention from the beginning and it holds the interest to the last page.
